

Hazards to Watch For

In A Department Store:

Because of the flammable merchandise and the crowds of people, most stores prohibit smoking except in designated areas (in California, smoking is prohibited by law!). It is best not to smoke even if it is permitted. Make note of fire exits in case a fire should break out.

On A Picnic:

Build fires only in approved areas, and make sure they are completely out before leaving. Never leave a fire unattended. Don't add lighter fluid to a fire after it has already started, because of the danger of explosion. Help prevent forest fires. Never throw lighted cigarettes or matches on the ground.

In Using Gasoline:

Gasoline should be stored only in proper, ventilated containers. Never use it as a cleaning fluid, because of the danger of explosive fumes. Never use gasoline to start trash or charcoal fires.
